HISTORY

The mother of Victorian Agricultural Societies, the Port Phillip Farmers' Society was founded in 1848, consisting of the parent body (later the National Agricultural Society) and finally the Royal Agricultural Society and three branches – Mornington, Bacchus Marsh and Gisborne. In 1856, the Mornington Farmers' Society was formed and the Society's first Show was held at Cranbourne in 1857. Two years later Mornington, Bacchus Marsh and Gisborne held Shows and it was during 1859 that the Whittlesea Agricultural Society had its beginnings on a site near the Whittlesea Railway Station. Here the Whittlesea Fair was held on Tuesday, 3rd May. There were 40 members, who subscribed approximately 1 pound each. Through lack of interest and support from the branches, the Port Phillip Farmers' Society disbanded, the last Show being in 1867, and all the Show's assets were handed over to trustees for the new National Agricultural Society in 1870. The Mornington Farmers' Society continued to progress. Eventually in 1918, the Society became known as the Berwick and District Agricultural and Horticultural Society. From this snippet of history it can be seen that the Whittlesea Agricultural Society in its own right has the proud distinction of being one of the oldest functioning Agricultural Societies in Victoria.

(If you would like a copy please contact the convenor) AAA Halter Showing Rules. The Showing Rules Manual of the Australian Alpaca Association (AAA) has been prepared by the AAA's Showing and Judging Committee and defines the rules and regulations applying to the activity of showing alpacas. Where relevant, and not specifically in conflict with the contents of this handbook, those rules and regulations apply equally to the conduct of a YPC, and it is therefore recommended that all those engaged within the activity of a YPC be familiar with its contents. In general terms, however, the YPC falls under the governance of the AAA, and reports to the Board through the AYE Committee made up of state representatives.

STOCKMANSHIP

This section offers the opportunity to demonstrate the excellence in the handling of alpacas in their normal daily management. This highlights through consistent training the bond that can be formed between the alpaca and its handler. Stockmanship is designed to simulate challenges that an alpaca and handler may face in day to day management by progressing through a series of stations/challenges. Training, teamwork and trust between the alpaca and handler are the key focus of this competition.

SHOWMANSHIP

This section demonstrates excellence in preparation, presentation and handling of alpacas in the show ring. It enables young people the opportunity to demonstrate a sound understanding and general knowledge of alpacas, their conformation and husbandry needs. Showmanship (Open section) simulates the halter classes at a show. This section evaluates competitors on their knowledge of show ring presentation and etiquette, Alpaca handling and ability to display the alpaca at its best to the judge for assessment. Showmanship (Preliminary section) will be judged in a pen situation where competitors will complete a hands on assessment and be required to show an understanding of alpaca fleece conformation and husbandry.

OPEN DIVISION

This offers an increased level of competition to assist and encourage young people to elevate their learning and involvement within the alpaca industry. This level involves Show Presentation and Stockmanship. Within the Open Division, there exists the opportunity for competitors to compete for the Trainers Award at each competition and the Master Trainers State Awards. These awards are open only to those individuals who are competing (as a "pair") with an Alpaca which they have specifically trained and prepared for the event. Scores from Show Preparation and Stockmanship sections will be added together to give a total score. Competitors must nominate for the trainer's award on the entry form. One trainer's award will be awarded per show taken from all age groups in the Open Division. The Trainers award will only be awarded if their score is within 90% of the top overall score (Showmanship and Stockmanship) on the day of competition.

PRELIMINARY DIVISION

This is the commencement of the Championship level in the Young Paraders Program. It introduces Showmanship to competitors, increases their education and knowledge, incorporates hands-on assessments and is aimed at young people seeking to attain a higher level of their understanding and skills within our industry on farm and in the show ring. At this level, Stockmanship offers a higher degree of difficulty including up to 8 stations/challenges.
